PLANS have been submitted for a major redevelopment of the AmSafe premises in West Street. Developers are proposing to convert a number of unused buildings at The Court into flats, with additional provision for café and restaurant space.

The Grade II listed site is a staple of Bridport's rope and netmaking heritage, but the buildings earmarked for development have been vacant for more than four years.

AmSafe has relocated its staff to three buildings at the north end of the site and is now prepared to let go of its remaining property.

In its application for development of the site, Bournemouth-based Lighthouse Land and Developments stresses that the plans will not lead to job cuts at the town's famous firm.

by Jack Dixon
jack@pemedi.co.uk

Under the proposals 16 new flats would be created in a three-storey apartment block, with a pair of existing two-bedroom cottages separately refurbished.

More than 300 square metres of space would also be opened up for commercial use, as part of a mixed redevelopment of the site.

If the plans are approved, the developer will demolish the two-storey warehouse and office block to the rear of The Court, clearing the way for extra parking spaces.

In its application papers, Lighthouse Land and Developments says its plans for the site will protect Bridport's "key heritage assets".

It said: "The creation of a viable mixed use development within this site will provide a rich level of use and occupation, and will ensure the protection of these key heritage assets for Bridport and the high street context."

"The two-storey warehouse to the rear has been vacant for six years and The Court building for 18 months. Due to the location in Bridport and the current marketplace, it has been difficult to find tenants for these buildings, and general market conditions suggest this could be the case for some time into the future."

"Market forecasts suggest that a mix of residential and commercial will provide the most viable use for the site."

The developer also stresses that "none of the proposed works will result in a loss of employment" at AmSafe, which will remain on the site.

Details of the plans are available to view on the West Dorset District Council website at <http://bit.ly/1KjDzv9>. Comments must be submitted by June 13th.

Joe Stork is a 26-year-old website designer who has lived in the area all of his life.

Joe attended Charmouth Country Primary before going on to Woodroffe School where his dream of becoming a professional website designer started.

Featuring in the View From Lyme Regis at the age of 15 for building an 'HTML help' website offering his knowledge all over the world, Joe's passion for all things web grew at a rapid rate.

He then attended Weymouth College where he completed various qualifications in the ICT industry. Shortly after completing college in 2008, Joe was successfully employed by local company Axminster Power Tools within the web department.

Joe was part of various projects within his time at Axminster Power Tools and was awarded Customer Service Support Champion award within the company in 2013 for his technical help and support to internal staff.

After nearly seven years, in early 2015 Joe took the step to become a freelance website designer launching his own company Joe Stork Web Design.

Based in Charmouth, Joe has already started to complete work for well-known, local companies, recently completing Ledger Scaffoldings responsive website project.

Joe is proud to say he has finally achieved his goal of becoming a professional website designer running his own company. He prides himself on high quality work and ensuring his clients are happy from start to finish.

● WHAT inspired your dream to become a professional website designer?

I have always had a strong passion for everything technical, seeing a logo on a website at the age of 14 sparked my curiosity of how a website works. Self taught and learning from home, I developed the relevant skills to make my first website, offering help to others who wanted to start their own website projects. This sparked a huge number of ideas and web-based projects resulting in my curiosity turning into a true love for all things web.

● WHAT do you like to do outside of work?

Outside of work I enjoy fitness, going to the gym and running. Of course spending time with the family and partner also being a huge part of my life.

● WHAT encouraged you to set up your own business? How did you feel about doing it?

Working for a local company for almost seven years helped develop my web and design skills. After again creating a number of my own web projects and my portfolio site I saw potential to offer my web solutions to local business owners. Increased interest in my work was incredibly flattering and working with a number of small companies gave me the confidence and desire to create Joe Stork Web Design. Although leaving my position of seven years was a hard decision and my colleagues are missed, the ability to grow my skills and offer my solutions whilst running my own company is a dream come true.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

● WHAT can you offer your clients in terms of website design? Do you cover every aspect of it?

I offer a number of elements regarding website design, responsive design being a big aspect ensuring the best possible viewing experience is provided on all screens - mobile, tablet and computer. I offer custom solutions from graphic design to website development. Print, eCommerce and branding solutions are also large parts of my service. I try to cover all required aspects of web design and development, I love a challenge and taking someone's ideas and turning them into a fully working website solutions, creating them sales, visitors and exposure.

● WHAT three items would you want with you on a desert island and why?

The three items I would take to a desert island would be a knife, matches and duct tape. A knife to hunt, cut and gather materials, the duct tape to make or repair various items and the matches to light the fire for warmth and cooking.

● WHAT would you like to do if you hadn't followed your passion for website design?

Having applied to become a fireman before joining Axminster Power Tools, this is a role I would have followed if I hadn't followed my passion for website design. I love the idea of helping others and having a different challenge everyday.

● WHAT would be the first thing you would do if you won the Lottery?

If I was so lucky to win the Lottery I would travel the world. I love to explore and see different countries and their wonders.

Long jail terms a warning to dealers

POLICE say they have sent out a "strong message" that drug dealing will not be tolerated, after two people from Bridport were given lengthy jail sentences for their part in a drugs ring operating across Dorset.

Robin Brasier, 68, and Tara Ruffell, 30, were both found guilty of conspiring to supply heroin and cocaine, and sentenced at Bournemouth Crown Court last Tuesday (May 19th).

Brasier received a nine-year sentence and Ruffell six years, along with three other offenders involved in the conspiracy. The gang of five were sentenced to a total of 33 years in prison.

Detective Constable Steve Pryce, from Dorset

by Jack Dixon

jack@pemedi.co.uk

Police's major crime investigation team, said: "Drug dealing, drug use and associated crimes cause nothing but misery for our communities."

"These convictions send out a strong message that Dorset Police and the courts do not tolerate drug dealing in the county, and the force is committed to tackling organised crime."

Ruffell was arrested in February last year on suspicion of possessing class A drugs with intent to supply.

Following the arrest, officers were able to gather intelligence that found Ruffell and Brasier had been arranging for shipments of heroin and crack cocaine to be transported into Dorset through contacts in Liverpool – where their three co-conspirators, Christie Tierney, 31, Robert Winterton, 30, and Thomas Burns, 31, were based.

Police investigations found that drugs had been couriered down to Dorset and distributed in Bridport and the surrounding towns. Brasier's home in Higher Eype was used as the hub of the operation.

Officers arrested Brasier at his home in March last year as part of Operation Crusade – an investigation into a group of suspects across the county.

Brasier was charged with conspiracy to supply class A drugs, and the case was brought to trial in Bournemouth earlier this month.

DC Pryce added: "I would like to commend all of the officers who worked on this case, including the investigation and intelligence teams, whose hard work led to the successful convictions of these offenders."

Robin Brasier and Tara Ruffell were found guilty by a jury of conspiracy to supply heroin and cocaine in Dorset, and were sentenced to nine and six years respectively.

Christie Tierney and Robert Winterton, both from Liverpool, pleaded guilty at an earlier hearing to conspiracy to supply class A drugs to Brasier. The pair received nine-and-a-half years and six-and-a-half years respectively.

Thomas Burns, also from Liverpool, pleaded guilty to money laundering and was sentenced to two years in prison.

Councillor Brown to serve as mayor

BRIDPORT councillors have given their support to new mayor Sandra Brown, who was installed as first citizen last week.

Councillor Brown, a long-serving community leader, returned to office for the first time in nine years after winning the unanimous backing of fellow members.

The Conservative councillor, who was previously elected as mayor in 1999, 2000 and 2005, won the support of the electorate earlier this month with the second highest number of votes in the Bridport South ward.

She replaces Councillor Maggie Ray at the helm, who steps down from the largely ceremonial position after two years of service.

Members gave their unanimous support to Councillor Brown as she was formally proposed for the post at last week's council meeting in the town hall.

Accepting the position, she said: "I have done this job before but I certainly never expected to do it again.

"There are a lot of things happening this year and I hope that, as well as all the hard work, we are going to have some fun."

Councillor Brown, an experienced servant in local government, was also returned to represent Bridport South and Bothenhampton at West Dorset District Council, following the elections on May 7th.

During last week's meeting, Councillor Geoffrey Ackerman was also re-installed as deputy mayor – a post he has held for the last two years – while Councillor Sarah Williams returned to serve for a third successive year as council leader.

Cllr Williams, a Liberal Democrat, said: "I thank my fellow councillors for entrusting me for another year. I am looking forward to working with the new council."

The new first citizen will be formally installed at the official mayor-making ceremony at the town hall next Thursday (June 4th).

Re: renewable energy in Dorset
CLIMATE change is the issue of our times. Indecisiveness now will result in huge costs later.

The UK Committee on Climate Change states in its progress report for 2014 that 'urgent and intensive action before 2020' would save £100 billion, reduce reliance on imported fossil fuels from politically unstable countries and have a positive impact on energy prices. There is considerable merit in embracing the move to renewable energy purely on economic grounds.

According to Regen SW there are already 10,000 jobs in the renewable sector in the South West and this is expected to rise to 34,000 by 2020.

Currently about £30 million enters the local economy in the form of feed-in tariffs earned by households and there is potential for more.

There are increasing opportunities for people to invest in solar panels on their local school or village hall through organisations such as Dorset Community Energy, a not-for-profit community benefit society.

Standard practice for wind farms is to offer an annual community benefit of £5,000 per MW and solar farms £1,000 per MW for the lifetime of the project. Existing solar farms across 11 Dorset parishes have already agreed a community benefit spend of £2 million.

Opponents tend to exaggerate the level of subsidy. Government figures calculate the total subsidy for UK renewable energy to be £38 per household per annum. The costs of the established technologies of solar and wind are dropping even faster than expected and it is highly likely that by 2020 they will be cheaper than other forms of energy and will need no subsidy.

The move to renewables in the UK will come. The only question is whether Dorset politicians will assist Dorset in benefiting fully from its huge natural resources of sun and wind.

There are already some great success stories in Dorset:

- The Piddle Valley community of 2,500 homes is supplied with 100 per cent renewable energy from solar and biogas;
- The largest solar farm in the UK is the 60MW farm near Bournemouth airport that is so well screened that most people are unaware of its existence;
- Corbin Industries in Bridport employs 70 people to make frames for solar panels.

However, there is still a mountain to climb during your tenure as councillor. Much of the low-hanging fruit has been picked and the challenge is becoming clearer.

The Bournemouth, Dorset and Poole Renewable Energy (BDPRE) Strategy sets a 7.5 per cent target for renewable energy generation for 2020.

The strategy has been produced by the Dorset Energy Partnership that includes Dorset County Council, all the district and borough councils and a wide range of community groups.

The latest figures (March 2015) indicate that 3.4 per cent of total energy consumption can be covered by projects that have been built or are in construction.

So we still need to double the capacity in the next five years. This really is a minimum since further national targets beyond 2020 are increasingly ambitious.

The Dorset Energy Partnership, which includes WDDC, has clearly rejected widely circulated claims by some groups that targets have almost been reached.

Last month no lesser person than the director general of the National Trust, Dame Helen Ghosh, made an unequivocal statement that climate change poses 'the biggest threat' to the land and houses in the care of the National Trust. She cited loss of biodiversity and wildlife on the land and the already substantially increased flood, stormwater, subsidence and gale damage to properties.

She promised that the trust would lead by example in moving to renewable energy generation.

The Government's 'UK 2012 Climate Change Risk Assessment' examines threats to the built environment and concludes that the risks posed by sea level rise and higher average temperatures will have a substantial impact by mid-century and that extreme weather events resulting from climate change are already causing substantial damage.

It is important to protect our landscape, wildlife and heritage assets for the current generation, but the only way to secure their long-term future is to tackle climate change.

You are the tier of government best placed to show leadership and to bring businesses and communities along with you. You are in a position to turn good ideas into tangible results – cooperatives for local energy production are a good example.

Councillors need to be clear that if they reject the projects coming into planning in the immediate future they are prepared to accept that Dorset will not reach its target. Dorset people will be refused the opportunity to play their fair part in the national endeavour to decarbonise electricity.

The next five years offer an exciting opportunity for councillors to make a real difference to our social, environmental and economic future by ensuring that initiatives and planning decisions are firmly focused on the achievement by 2020 of the targets we have set ourselves in Dorset for all the reasons we have outlined above.

Why are mobility scooters hated?

I AM 81 and unable to walk unaided, so I have a mobility scooter to give me just a little independence; it helps me get into town and enjoy some limited freedom instead of having to constantly rely on others.

The machine is slow, and silent, so I switch on the 'squeaker' to make myself audible.

Even so, people do not see or hear me, and I am constantly asking to be excused, and given room to pass pedestrians.

Yet, people still walk in front of me, or worse, come to a sudden stop. Then I get verbal abuse.

On Saturday, I was coasting down East Street, passing the busy market stalls with the squeaker on, when a lady stepped in front of me; her husband turned on me aggressively, told me to slow down, then told me to get out of the way – and quick!

A tall man, with arms waving almost hysterically, he towered above me sitting on the scooter. His manner was aggressive, and I felt vulnerable and intimidated.

The average mobility scooter does not have a braking system, stopping only when the lever is released, taking up to a full turn of the wheels before stopping. It is therefore not possible to stop suddenly in an emergency.

Every time I venture out, I get some form of abuse; most people are agreeable and make way for me, and I smile and say "thank you" for the courtesies – but it seems that there is always at least one.

There are many such vehicles in Bridport, and I am sure they all have similar experiences.

I have to make considerable effort to go out at all, and such attitudes are not encouraging. Just a little consideration is always appreciated.

Schoolkids test out new bridge

■ ROPE WALKERS | Pupils from Portesham Primary School were among the first to cross the new Burma Rope Bridge at Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens.

The children visited the gardens and walked across the bridge, which stretches 36 metres over the gardens' Jurassic Swamp, and is one of the longest rope bridges in the UK. The Hon Charlotte

Townshend, who owns the gardens, said: "It is a brilliant addition for this end of the gardens and it adds a wonderful element of fun."

The opening of the bridge, which cost £100,000 to build, is part of a full programme of events this year to celebrate the gardens' 250th anniversary.

The bridge was officially opened by Roy Lancaster, who has a long association with Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens stretching back half a century.

He said: "It is a magical place, a really special garden."

"It has the most important collection of its kind in the British Isles with lots of rare plants from forests and jungles."

MEMBERS of The Living Tree cancer support group were donning different hairdos in Bridport last week as part of CLIC Sargent's 'Wig Wednesday' campaign and managed to raise £186.70.

They were selling Peruvian gifts and bric-a-brac outside the arts centre to help raise money for the children's cancer charity, and encouraging shoppers to have their photograph taken wearing a wig.

Jo O'Farrell, who helped set up The Living Tree in 2012, organised the stall with Mary Bunney, as they are also raising money for the charity through the MusicAthon event next month.

It was Mary who asked if the event could support it as it is a charity close to her heart.

Mary said: "It was Jo who organised it. I asked if she needed a charity for the MusicAthon and I suggested CLIC Sargent and she also came up with this idea."

"My great nephew is three-years-old and was diagnosed with leukaemia a year ago and the family have been very well supported by CLIC Sargent so I thought what I could do to boost the funds so we are doing our little bit.

"I even played badminton in my wig this morning and the other players donated to CLIC Sargent. The stall proved very popular and many people played along with having their photo taken in a wig and we even had a hairdresser come and help us with them."

CLIC Sargent's Wig Wednesday encourages everyone in the UK to unite and show support while raising vital funds for children and young people through wearing a wig and donating.

Bridport business replaces man's stolen wood burner

A DISABLED man who had his wood burner stolen says his "faith in humanity has been restored," after a local business offered to replace it free of charge.

Grant Mulry, who lives in Burton Bradstock, had his new

by Lottie Welch

wood burner stolen from outside his house last month and put out appeals on social media to try and track it down.

Mr Mulry, who uses a wheelchair, had given up all hope of recovering the equipment until a call came in from Southwest Eco Systems – a sister company of Bridport plumber Guy

Crabb's local firm – who offered to donate and fit a new burner for free.

The company's Charlie Slocombe said he wanted to help Mr Mulry after hearing about the incident, and organised a wood burner to be supplied and fitted at his home.

He said: "I saw one of his appeals and I spoke to Guy about it and we decided we could do something for him.

"We contacted one of our suppliers, Arada Stoves in Axminster, and they agreed to provide a stove, saying that Grant could have whichever one he wanted.

"The old wood burner was terrible and had a bad installation so we have tidied up the fireplace and re-lined the fire chute."

The new equipment was fitted at Mr Mulry's home yesterday, after Mr Slocombe paid a personal visit to the property.

"Magna (housing association) had insisted we have a wood burner properly installed, as our last one was a bodged job and we had been ripped off," said Mr Mulry.

"I share the house with another disabled person and we saved up the money and bought a new wood burner and left it outside for the night.

"At around 5am I could hear something but couldn't get out of bed to have a look, and someone had taken it.

"I put appeals out to find it and now these kind people have supplied a wood burner and installed it. It has really restored my faith in humanity."

Back when the Yanks were in town

WORLD War Two re-enactors gathered in Bridport last weekend to commemorate 71 years since the departure of US troops from the town.

Members of the 1st Infantry Division – a living history group which portrays the men of Company E 2nd Battalion of the 16th Infantry Regiment, US 1st Infantry Division – camped at Walditch over the weekend to commemorate the 71st anniversary of the regiment leaving the village.

The regiment was stationed in Walditch from November 1943 to May 1944 when it moved to sealed camps prior to landing on Omaha beach on D-Day.

The re-enactors visited the Literary and Scientific Institute on East Street, as during World War Two it was used by their medical detachment as a training centre and a dental surgery.

It was also a rest and recreation centre for British, American and Canadian troops run by the British Red Cross.

Second Lieutenant Ian Malugani, the commanding officer of the re-enactment group, said: "It is a fantastic opportunity for our group to stand in the very same spot that 71 years ago, was home to the regiment we represent.

"We used the weekend to carry out training such as map and compass work, gas mask training, drills, first aid for soldiers and weapons safety as this helps us improve for when we do larger public shows.

"We live as the men would have lived 71 years ago, in original tents, sleeping in original wool blankets and eating what the GIs would have eaten.

"The reason we do this is out of respect for the young men who did this for real 71 years ago."

All the fun of the VISITORS to the town on Spring Bank Holiday Monday were able to make the most of Bridport's community events with and traditional town and village fairs.

It was another successful year for the annual Burton Bradstock Village Fayre as organisers welcomed even more visitors than last year.

And with a whole host of games, including splat the rat, skittles, the human fruit machine and coconut shy, it raised thousands of pounds for Burton Bradstock Village Hall.

Richard Ferré, one of the organisers of the fayre, said: "It was brilliant.

"We had around 960 paying visitors and under 12s go free, so we probably had nearly 1,200 people - which is considerably up on last year.

"We made in the region of £5,800 which will go towards maintenance of the windows at the village hall. I think everyone had a great day out."

It was also a day to crown Bridport's May Queen and celebrate spring at the Millennium Green Trust's May Fair.

Sarah Horton, Bridport resident and London Marathon runner, had the honours of crowning Niamh Harvey as May Queen before pupils of the Lyric School of Dancing entertained the crowds with maypole dancing.

And amongst the bouncy castle and various activities, local community groups were selling a range of crafts and bric-a-brac.

More than 500 cyclists in Coast to

HUNDREDS of cyclists took on a gruelling 54 mile ride to make this year's Coast to Coast the "best event to date".

A total of 553 cyclists turned out on the day to take part, in what has become an annual spectacular.

The route took cyclists on a challenging route from either Watchet, in Somerset, to West Bay, or the shorter route of Drimpton to West Bay.

Bridport resident Matthew Norris, along with Steve Toogood and Kevin Watts from Minehead, was one of the first three across the line.

He was the first to cross the finish line last year and has taken part in the event for the past four years.

A team of Magna Housing Association employees also took on the challenge and managed to raise £1,800 through sponsorship for the charity.

Bill Sivewright, Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance chief executive officer, who completed the 54 mile route, said: "Taking part in the event is a really great way to get a good perspective on the organisation and running of the event."

"Mingling with the riders at all stages and getting into the atmosphere was really uplifting."

"I am full of admiration for all those who pushed themselves, in some cases well beyond their

"Their incredible hard work, dedication and boundless enthusiasm all fuelled what I believe is our best event to date.

"Our thanks also go to the event sponsors, local councils, police and the ambulance service for their support in helping to make the day such a success – here's to next year."

The Koppers

Axminster care home win award for being rated in the top twenty in the South West for the second year running.

TWICE voted in the top 20 of the Care Home Awards, beating 2370 other homes in the area, The Koppers is a warm, welcoming and friendly residential home specialising in the care of people with dementia.

Nestled in tranquil settings in the heart of the picturesque village of Kilmington, The Koppers provided the highest level of care for elderly people, comfortable accommodation with beautiful views, excellent facilities and expertly trained staff.

"We provide a friendly, comfortable home for the confused retired. We aim to promote independence, privacy and dignity within a therapeutic and caring environment"

The owners of the Koppers are constantly striving to provide residents with the highest quality care, providing dedicated and compassionate staff experienced in the care of elderly people with complex care needs, long standing mental health problems and severe communication disabilities.

"We pride ourselves on providing excellent care for our residents. To receive the award is a wonderful, wonderful achievement and it's great to have received such recognition two years running" owner Vivian comments.

"There is just a negative representation of residential homes in the news at the moment but we are a small home that takes pride in offering the best care and a happy, home from home environment and it's nice to have the award to validate that."

We are planning a summer event in July, to celebrate our award with residents, their families, friends and local community.

Hazelwell Lodge

HAZELWELL Lodge is a 35 bed Care Home for the elderly situated in Parish town Ilminster in South West Somerset. Miss Edna Maxwin took over the running in 1987, for people with Old age and dementia. Her aim was to change people's perception of care homes and how people view their autumn years. We are now a 35 bed home specialising in care for those who suffer from dementia and associated behavioural issues that may cause challenges in an unsupervised setting. The operation of the home is designed to enable such residents to resume a more appropriate and desirable way of living that deals with their individual needs on a personal level. We provide safe environments that are adapted to the unique needs of the resident so that they can enjoy as much independence, mental and physical stimulation as possible. Miss Maxwin has now been joined in the ownership of the home by her son Chris Ochoa. With the support and interaction of local authorities, NHS and Healthcare professionals it is clear to see that Perceptions HAVE changed and Hazelwell Lodge holds an important and respected position in the local community.

Lunch raises £1,800 for Weldmar

THE annual Weldmar Hospicecare Trust lunch at the Riverside Restaurant in West Bay has raised a record breaking £1,800.

The event, which took place last month, included some 78 guests arriving at the restaurant to enjoy a two-course lunch prepared by head chef Tony Shaw and his team.

They were then entertained by Dawn Warr and her informative and funny talk, "My life so far, as a gamekeeper, taxidermist and pet portrait artist".

Organiser Dr Ian Gibson said: "On behalf of the trust, I would like to thank everyone who generously supported our lunch and, in particular, Arthur Watson and his team at the Riverside who provided us with a superb lunch, as well as generously donating 55 per cent of the takings to our charity.

"The selection of raffle prizes this year was tremendous and special thanks must go to those that gave the prizes, as well as to those who bought raffle tickets on the day.

"Thanks to all your support and efforts we have raised a record £1,800 this year, which is fantastic."

THE CUSTOMS HOUSE WESTBAY

THERE is something magical about vintage shopping. Of course, shopping on the high street is fun and you may be able to find some lovely items but it just doesn't have the same charm or sense of discovery that can only be found browsing through pieces with a history.

It used to be that to experience this exciting way of shopping, you would have to rummage through markets at the crack of dawn, or trek through countless different shops and boutiques in different locations. Molly's Den Emporiums have changed the way vintage lovers shop by bringing hundreds of unique traders of all things antique, retro and vintage into enormous warehouses on the South Coast.

Having opened its doors just three years ago, Molly's Den started with only one den just outside the centre of Bournemouth. The warehouse was a fantastic addition to the area and was soon filled with eager traders happy to have a spot in such a great space. The demand from sellers was so great that the Bournemouth den has since expanded and now fills two enormous warehouses with an amazing mix of vintage, antique, retro and hand made. Emporiums in New Milton, Winchester and Bridport soon followed the Bournemouth den, with every one being a huge success.

Between them, the four dens are now home to over one thousand sellers, their units all completely one of a kind and with stock changing daily, you never know what you might find with every visit. Browse through delicate antique furniture, hand painted pieces large and small, eclectic vintage clothing, hand made gifts and home ware, up cycled items, beautiful jewellery and watches, unusual collectables and rarities and much, much more. It is a real challenge not to walk away with something after a visit to these treasure troves. Whether you are hunting for a unique item for your home, a quirky gift for a friend, hand-made clothing or are simply there for a browse, these massive emporiums have everything a vintage lover could ask for. Each trader takes care of their own pitch so walking around every corner is a surprise; you may discover pieces to make you reminisce, items to inspire or things to fall head over heels in love with. With so many traders and so many items, there is something to suit every budget from large wardrobes to tiny knick-knacks. The dens are now also stocking a great range of plants and garden ware, perfect for the Summer! Discover pretty flowers, trees, accessories and garden furniture to make the outside of your home look just as fantastic as the inside.

The dens just keep growing, with lots of new plans on the horizon, so keep an eye out for new spaces opening across the UK. Not only do these eccentric dens hold countless pieces of furniture, clothing, collectables and oddities, each emporium is also home to its own quirky in-house café as well as kids play areas. This means that customers go to the dens not just for a unique shopping experience but also for a fun family day out. Each café is fantastic, serving a great selection of breakfast, brunch, lunch and afternoon teas as well as takeaways, all with a vintage flair of course! The Winchester emporium's 'Café Toasted' is fast becoming a local gem with locals and tourists visiting the quirky upstairs haven for delicious snacks and meals while they ponder their exciting purchases from the busy den downstairs. Each den also features unique kids play areas, including the New Milton den, a particular family favourite, where you will find an enormous children's section, including a large soft play and a converted vintage bus. The newest den in Bridport has a funky kids play loft as well as a cute café and is set in a colourful, unusual warehouse packed to the rafters with vintage loveliness.

The picturesque town of Bridport, now not only has an enormous Molly's Den emporium, but is now also home to The Customs House, an exciting new shopping experience in the Westbay harbour. The site was started by the same team that brought us Molly's Den and has just as much vintage flair as the four sites it joins. In a beautiful 200 year old complex, the shopping outlet features a fantastic selection of contemporary, vintage, art and hand made stores as well as workshops and boutique dining, all around a central courtyard with alfresco tables and market stalls. Located right on the beach, it's stunning situation has made it a big hit with tourists visiting the famous coast line, which you will recognize from the TV series Broadchurch, starring David Tennant. With a fully licensed Beach Bar now in the courtyard, The Customs House is perfect for a summer day out and the kids will be happy with the new, recently expanded, play-area. This beautiful listed building is a hive of activity with the outside space now full of boutique street food stalls, take your pick from jalopy pizzas, panini's, tasty salads, local ice cream, falafel and much more. Since opening it's doors less than two months ago, The Customs House has gone from strength to strength and a visit now means a great day out for the whole family. The lively atmosphere and fantastic mix of great shopping and great food means every visitor will be happy.

MOLLY'S DEN BRIDPORT

All five of these incredible emporiums are now not only home to an eclectic mix of traders and quirky cafes but are also becoming increasingly popular as great music venues. There are always brilliant local and national acts scheduled to perform at each emporium. The performers range from vintage style singers to full bands and reggae DJs as well as open mic sessions, where visitors can sing their hearts out on a unique stage. The music is often joined by kids activities and in the past the entertainment has ranged from face painters, kids art clubs and even novelty performers, such as Olaf from Frozen for a fun and extremely popular meet and greet. If you're feeling crafty then all these versatile venues are also home to a great mix of workshops, including Chalk Paint Magic and Furniture Makeover, so if you find a beautiful piece on your shopping trip that needs a little TLC, you can turn it into your own amazing creation. These workshops are a wonderful opportunity for beginners and more experienced visitors alike and are currently being run at the New Milton den but are soon to be scheduled at all the Molly's Den emporiums as well as The Customs House. Keep an eye on the websites for information on upcoming events.

All this puts the dens and The Customs House in an entirely different league from other antique emporiums and the sheer scale of the centres mean the variety of traders is fantastic.

Dotted along the coast, these amazing spaces have changed the entire vintage and antique scene in the south, bringing visitors down from all over the country for a unique shopping experience. With the perfect distance between each den, every emporium is always busy with amazed customers discovering one of a kind pieces to fall in love with.

Every Molly's Den and The Customs House, Westbay are open seven days a week, which means lot of time for shopping!

Local runner raises £2,270 for charity in London Marathon

A NON-STOP Bridport fundraiser has raised £2,270 for Weldmar Hospice Care Trust after running for the charity at this year's London Marathon.

Sarah Horton presented Katie Slade of Weldmar Hospicecare

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedi.co.uk

Trust with the cheque last week.
Katie Slade, events fundraiser for Weldmar Hospicecare Trust, said: "We are very proud of all of our London Marathon runners who put an enormous amount of hours into fundraising and training.

"They all did fantastically on the day and have been fabulous ambassadors for the hospice."

Mrs Horton is always looking for ways to raise money for charity and has taken part in a sponsored cycle, the Great South Run and the Kilomathon Scotland and thanks the backing of the community for raising thousands of pounds for Weldmar.

Sarah Horton said: "It was all the customers, churches around Bridport, the Beaminster Trefoil Guild, Hearties the heart support group and all the Boots stores that were behind me, which was brilliant.

"It was a real community effort and it is surprising how all the little bits add up.

"A big thank you for all the support and those who have been right behind me the whole way."

But Sarah isn't stopping her fundraising efforts for the hospice for long, as her next event will be their annual Midnight Walk on Saturday, July 18th.

Public First campaigners in Bridport town centre

PUBLIC First campaigners took to the streets of Bridport to encourage residents to sign their petition calling for a committee system, writes LOTTIE WELCH.

The group want to see an end to the cabinet system currently in government and are collecting signatures for a referendum to move West Dorset District Council to a committee system in which all elected councillors have a role in policy making.

John Grantham, one of the campaigners, said: "It is a petition to trigger a referendum to change governance from a cabinet system back to a committee system.

"We feel passionately that it is undemocratic that 45 per cent of the votes in the recent local election give one party 100 per cent of the seats in cabinet and we would prefer it if instead of seven cabinet members having concentrated power, instead all 42 elected councillors having a role in policy making.

"This is what the committee system, which was in effect until 2007, did.

"We only need 5 per cent of West Dorset residents on the electoral roll to sign to trigger a referendum."

Bridport Food Festival launches One Pot Challenge

THIS year a new feature has been added to Bridport Food Festival to get local children thinking more about food.

Festival organisers have teamed up with Food Future Bridport and Com-

by Lottie Welch
lottie@pemedial.co.uk

Some of the schools taking part are already working towards an Eco-Schools Green Flag Award, which recognises schools' efforts to reduce their environmental impact and make learning for sustainability a part of school life.

Organiser Kate Handley, of Food Future Bridport, said: "The response from schools and teachers has been fantastic, there is a real enthusiasm for this challenge."

"It will be a real treat for pupils to learn alongside a professional chef and compete with other schools to have Giles cook the winning recipe on the main festival day."

Giles will be driving his Stewed and Baked van to schools to do a series of cook-offs with students in the munities Living Sustainably to create a new cooking challenge.

The One Pot Challenge is a chance for children to learn how to make a sustainable family meal, which protects health, supports the local economy and is good for the planet too.

Children from four of Bridport's primary schools – Burton Bradstock, Symondsburry, Powerstock and St Catherine's Primary School – will be devising recipes and learning about smart ways of shopping and eating before cooking them up with Giles Smith, street food trader and owner of Stewed and Baked.

first week of June.

Each school will practice with two recipes and the favourite will be submitted to festival judges by June 9th.

Amanda Streatfeild, chairman of Bridport Local Food Group, the organisers behind Bridport Food Festival, said: "Bridport Food Festival is really excited about this initiative."

"Linking local food to create healthy and sustainable recipes has to be a great opportunity to get our children thinking about where their food comes from and how it is produced."

The criteria includes marks for how appetising and imaginative the dish is and how healthy and sustainable it is.

The winning recipe will be cooked and sold by Giles on the main festival day on Saturday, June 13th.

Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend

ALL SET FOR A FEELGOOD FINALE

CANVEY Island rockers, Dr Feelgood will unleash a wild, mad, full-on finale at this year's Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend at Marine Theatre on Sunday, May 31st.

Dubbed one of the most exciting live R&B acts in the country, the Doctors have achieved cult-like status amongst their large devoted fan base. The current line up features Kevin Morris on drums and Phil Mitchell on bass, both in the band for 27 years, Steve Walwyn on guitar, with 20 years under his belt and vocalist Robert Kane (formerly of the Animals) the most recent addition - joining in 1999.

Wilko Johnson left the band in 1977 and has since pursued a solo career and their original front man, Lee Brilleux, died in 1994. The remaining band members have nevertheless gone from strength to strength and are highly regarded on the live music circuit.

Julie Sheppard, the festival's organiser said: "Expect loud, raw and uncompromising R'nB perfectly delivered. They're just going to belt it out - and that's exactly what we want for our finale".

On Saturday night (May 30th) another massive feelgood factor in the shape of rock-blues diva Maggie Bell, will play with Dave Kelly of the Blues Band. Maggie, who's been likened to Janis Joplin because of her rasping, bluesy singing style, has found the perfect foil in Kelly's soulful slide guitar playing, of which he is a highly acclaimed proponent.

"I'm really looking forward to hearing two very talented artists, who've played arenas around the globe, in the intimate setting of our very own Marine Theatre. This promises to be a really stunning evening of soulful blues", said Julie Sheppard.

Tickets: £18 seated £15 standing from Lyme Regis Tourist Information centre on 01297 442138.

Jurassic Music Festival 140 million years in the making

JURASSIC ROCKS, LET'S ROLL!

NOW in its second year the Jurassic Rocks Music Festival is a celebration of all things Portland, Dorset - Jurassic! The music festival is held on the Isle of Portland on the Dorset Coast and takes its name from this historic piece of coastline. The festival aims to encourage locals and visitors alike to make the most of the incredible location: explore the carvings in the old quarries, admire the view from Portland Bill or simply enjoy some good ole' Dorset Cider.

After the popularity of Jurassic Rocks in 2014 organisers have added an extra day to the event now including Friday, July 17th and Saturday 18th July. With a wide range of live music and performers throughout the two days the festival is excited to announce the Skimmity Hitchers as headliners! As self-professed 'Weirdos of the West Country' this fun-loving, cider-drinking, foursome takes scrumpy & Western music to a new level.

With three stages the festival offers an eclectic mix of music, perfect for sitting in the sunshine and sipping cider to! The festival will showcase local talent from throughout the South West with a focus on folk, folk punk, skiffle, acoustic and rock music, visitors are encouraged to get up, dance and enjoy the countryside!

Festival Organiser, Glenn Chadwick comments: "The Jurassic Rocks Festival 2014 was a huge success and we're excited to see the festival grow to be bigger and better this year. We've pulled in more bands, added a second day and are proud to be showcasing Dorset food and drink. We really want to encourage locals and visitors alike to come and join in the fun and see a little bit more of our beautiful coastline."

As well as a host of music, the festival will also showcase a range of locally brewed beers and ciders, the best that the South West has to offer! There will also be food available so festival-goers are encouraged to bring all the family and spend the day setting up camp and having fun!

With regular train and bus links between London and Bristol it is easy for festival-goers to reach Weymouth and then onto Portland. There were almost 2,000 attendees in 2014 and festival organisers predict that 2015 will be bigger and better. The Alleyways Bridport Antiques Centre

HONITON'S and Portland's loss is Bridport & The Alleyways Bridport Antiques Centre gain.

Lesley Phillips, who has been closely involved with antiques for over fifteen years, owned The Grove Antiques Centre of Honiton that recently closed and we are thrilled to welcome her to The Alleyways. She brings a wealth of experience and beautiful stock to furnish your home.

Last month we were pleased to welcome Frank Designs who have relocated their business from Portland to The Alleyways. Frank Designs, home of the B-Frank Retro Range, a vintage inspired fashion collection. Working with vintage patterns and contemporary & vintage fabrics, they create off-the-peg garments, with a nostalgic 1950's & 1960's feel. If you love 50's & 60's fashion you'll have to pop in and see this stunning range. If you don't see the right thing then it can always be made for you.

Other news is that On Reflection's huge assortment of mirrors has grown to now include Art Deco style mirrors and furniture – apparently we are now the biggest stockist of ornate and decorative mirrors in the South West. So, if you're looking for a reflection come down to The Alleyways and you'll be dazzled.

This half term why not come down to The Art & Vintage Quarter on St Michael's Trading Estate here in Bridport and to cap off the holiday week, there's the Bridport Sunday Vintage Market.

Sunday 31st May all the shops in the quarter, The Alleyways and the Red Brick Cafe will be open plus an eclectic mix of more antique and vintage traders with their stalls. The West Country Higgler will be serving his Dorset Coffee and there will be buskers to entertain you. A memorable way to end the Bank Holiday here down on St Michael's Trading Estate, Bridport.

Cane Corner

ANTIQUE and Modern Chairs Professionally Re-seated with Split Cane and Rush.

Our clients are local, national, businesses and private.

Cane Corner was established in 1985, developing from an all consuming hobby, leading to a full time occupation.

Chairs are returned to their former glory, by re-seating them with the materials that they were originally designed to receive. (Often, in the past, correct materials/skills were not readily available).

The work we do includes repairs to chairs, re-gluing rickety frames, polishing and upholstery* as required.

No matter how bad the condition chairs come into the workshop, they leave with a new lease of life!

New Elizabethan Singers concert

THE NEW Elizabethan Singers will perform a concert of three contrasting works on Saturday, June 6th in the United Church, East St. Bridport, starting at 7.30 pm.

Antonin Dvořák is probably best known for his "New World Symphony" but his "Mass in D major" was written in 1887 for the dedication of a new chapel in Bohemia. It's everything you would expect from a late Romantic composer who followed on from Mendelssohn and Brahms.

Leonard Bernstein of course wrote "West Side Story" but he was also commissioned to write "The Chichester Psalms" by the Dean of Chichester Cathedral in 1965. Being thrifty, he adapted pieces that had been originally intended for West Side Story and another planned musical, and added some Hebrew Psalms. The 23rd Psalm, sung by a boy treble as though a young David, will undoubtedly bring a lump to the throat of both audience and choir alike.

Well-known for Christmas carols, John Rutter's "Gloria", written in 1974 for an American choir, was his first extended composition but remains one of his most popular works.

Tickets (£12, under 18's are free) are available from Goadsby and Bridport Music in South St.

Music for Celebration

ROB Dishington has put together a stunning collection of spectacular celebratory music to lift the heart for a concert in Dorchester this June.

The poem For the Beauty of The Earth, celebrating God's blessings in nature, was inspired by the lush countryside around Bath. Over a century later, Philip Stopford has given the lyrics a modern and achingly beautiful setting. In contrast the words of Psalm 109 Dixit Dominus celebrate God's support in time of adversity and Charpentier's 17th century setting reflects this using rhythms and notation which buttress each other, creating an uplifting harmony.

Charles Marie Widor is perhaps best known for his exuberantly cascading organ Toccata, celebrating the stupendous sound and richness of the organ as instrument. Listeners may well imagine the great French Gothic cathedrals whose massive pillars rise to delicate tracery. His mass no 36 is equally rich in colour and weight and forms a strong French reply to Handel's theatrically joyous and triumphant British coronation anthems.

The Briantspuddle Singers will perform 'England and France - Music for Celebration' at St Mary's, Dorchester on Saturday, June 27th at 7.30pm.

Tickets are £10 available on the door or by calling 01929 554055

Duotone at the Corn Exchange

IT IS rare these days to find a sound that is so unique it could be considered uncategorisable, and it could be argued Duotone fit that bill perfectly. Dorchester Arts are keen to welcome this much-publicised new music talent to the Corn Exchange on Friday, June 12th.

Duotone is the name under which Barney Morse-Brown (cellist for multi platinum artist Birdy, the Imagined Village & Chris Wood's, Handmade Life) writes and performs his own contemporary acoustic songs. He loops guitars and cellos, percussion and voices to create ethereal sound-scapes around which to weave his poignant lyrics.

Following some hugely successful festival appearances at End Of The Road Festival and Green Man two name but two - Duotone has become a popular live booking throughout the UK - mesmerising audiences all around the country with his very unique shows, breathlessly moving from riotous energy - all the way down to the most delicate and heartfelt moments of beauty and intimacy. Barney possess a unique quality that will one minute have a crowd on their feet, seconds later - the audience will wait, held by the moment - waiting for a pin to drop.

Coming from a musical family of seven children, Barney's passion for performance was established early on. Studying at The Royal Welsh College of Music & Drama, he was awarded a scholarship to study Baroque cello at The Royal College Of Music.

The cello has to date played a pivotal role in Barney's life - starting at the age of six he has gone on to build a successful career that has seen him performing around the world with some of the great artists of our time - as already mentioned, Birdy, Chris Wood and Imagined Village - as well as Eliza Carthy and many others.

It was this musical environment that Barney fully immersed himself leading to the creation of his unique sound that challenges convention - all the while demonstrating the versatility of the cello by making it the lead instrument in the band.

Duotone will be supported by The White Bicycles on the night - this indie/electro outfit have gained a local following from their last two visits to Dorchester with Saturday Sun and Lily and Meg, which promises to be the perfect introduction to a sublime night of music.

Duotone plus The White Bicycles will perform at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Friday, June 12th at 8pm. For ticket call Dorchester Corn Exchange Box Office 01305 266 926 or visit www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Cantamus presents 'Town and Country Matters' this summer

THE singers of Cantamus are looking forward to bringing 'Town and Country Matters' to audiences at three local venues during their forthcoming summer concert series.

The programme brings together a variety of music from five glorious centuries of song writing. The centrepiece is 'Cries of London' – subtitled 'A humorous fancy' – by Orlando Gibbons, in which individual mongers' voices in turn extol the virtues of their wares and services: "Rosemary and bays, quick and gentle", "Ha'ye any rats or mice to kill?", and "What is't you lack? Fine wrought shirts or smocks?".

Other pieces include two gorgeous songs in Italian by Monteverdi, 'Mother I will have a husband' by Thomas Vautour, and three extracts from Purcell's King Arthur.

The second half opens with the heartbreaking 'Lay a garland on her hearse' by Pearsall, before two English folk songs – 'Brigg Fair' and 'Ca' the yowes' – bring a change of mood. There's a touch of humour from 'The gasman cometh' and 'The slow train', both arranged by the choir's musical director, Malcolm Knowles, before the concert concludes with 'Draw on sweet night', a lovely madrigal by Wilbye.

Cantamus was formed in 2012 and gives three series of concerts each year across the area. The three concerts this summer are: St Michael's, Lyme Regis, on Saturday, June 13th; St John the Baptist, Hawkchurch, on Saturday, July 11th; and St Mary's Church, Netherbury, on Saturday, July 18th. All concerts start at 7.30pm and tickets are available on the door, price £8 (Lyme Regis and Hawkchurch) or £10 (Netherbury).

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require. In addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. The whole coastline with Lyme Regis and Charmouth at its centre has been designated a World Heritage Site commonly known as the Jurassic Coast, It lies approximately 5 miles from the market town of Axminster, with its main line railway connections to Waterloo (Approx. 2 3/4 hours). Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles with access to the M5 motorway and the county town of Dorchester is a similar distance. Locally there are primary schools in Lyme Regis and Uplyme along with the well-respected Woodroffe and Colyton Grammar Schools.

For more information or to make a viewing which is highly recommended to appreciate all this property has to offer. Please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Estate Agents on 01297 - 445666 to arrange a viewing.

New FIAT Aegea Project

The all-new FIAT compact sedan debuts today at the Istanbul Motor Show. Designed in Italy at the FIAT Chrysler Automobiles Centro Stile, and developed in Turkey together with Tofaş R&D, one of FCA's largest research and development centres, the new model will be manufactured in the Bursa plant in Turkey, which has been designated Gold Medal status by World Class Manufacturing in recognition of its efficiency, quality and eco-friendliness.

The new saloon is currently known as "FIAT Aegea Project" in recognition of the strategic importance of FIAT Chrysler Automobiles' Turkish operations since the first joint venture between what was then known as FIAT Group and Koç Holding commenced in 1968.

To further reiterate the importance of the Turkish market and to help grow FCA's presence in the region, the Istanbul Motor Show has been chosen to debut this important new model. Sales will commence in Turkey in November 2015 and will gradually expand into more than 40 countries in the EMEA (Europe, Middle East and Africa) region.

The FIAT Aegea Project was conceived from the outset as a completely new three-volume sedan, rather than as a hatchback with a boot, resulting in perfectly balanced proportions and cohesive, flowing lines as demonstrated by the elegant swage line that flows beautifully from the corners of the headlamps to the leading edge of the rear light clusters.

This design cohesion is particularly noticeable at the rear end where the car's surfaces, lines and detailing all converge harmoniously to give the FIAT Aegea Project a distinctive, attractive and perfectly-resolved appearance. The front end is characterised by a sculpted bonnet, with central ribbing that stretches across the roof to create a continuous line, and a broad grille with intercalated chrome-effect accents which form an unmistakable graphic pattern, flanked by sophisticated, swept-back headlamp clusters, all of which combine to define the confident and unmistakable Italian style of the new FIAT Aegea Project.

At 4.5m in length, 1.78m in width and 1.48m in height, with a wheelbase of 2.64m, the FIAT Aegea Project has been designed to accommodate five passengers comfortably and easily cater for their luggage as well, with a load capacity of over 510 litres. As with all FIAT products, a wide range of reliable, muscular and efficient engines will be available – two MultiJet II turbo-diesel engines and two petrol units with power outputs of between 95 and 120hp. Available with manual and automatic transmissions (depending on engine) it is worth noting that the diesel engines are particularly fuel-efficient: upwards of 70 mpg (comparable to that of a city car) is possible.

Inside, the FIAT Aegea project is not only styled and built to the highest standards, it also sports the latest technological features including FIAT Chrysler Automobiles' Uconnect™ infotainment system equipped with a five-inch colour touch screen; hands-free Bluetooth calling with audio streaming, SMS text reader and voice recognition; AUX and USB ports with iPod integration; steering wheel controls and, on request, a rear parking camera and TomTom satellite navigation.

Drivers not aware of impending changes to scrapping of driving licence counterpart in June

THE Institute of Advanced Motorists (IAM) is warning people to be aware of the changes that will take effect in just over two weeks' time as the paper counterpart for the driving licence is scrapped.

As was the case with the abolition of the paper tax disc last October, the IAM fear many people are still confused or unaware of the implications of the scrapping of the paper counterpart on 8 June.

The counterpart was introduced alongside the photo card driving licence in 1998 to include details that could not be included on the card itself, such as any endorsements and which category of vehicles you are entitled to drive.

However this information will now be stored electronically and not be shown on any written documentation you will have. These details can be only be obtained via the DVLA driver record system, and be checked online (reference 1) or in writing by post.

As of 8 June the paper counterpart, or an old-style paper driving licence cannot be relied upon to carry correct or up-to-date information about endorsements or categories of vehicle someone can drive.

The counterpart will carry no legal status, and the DVLA recommends you destroy it after 8 June.

What is also changing is the procedure if you have to surrender your driving licence to a court in the event of an endorsement. The court will take your photocard and if you include the paper counterpart with your submission, the photocard will be returned to you but the counterpart will not.

You will be expected to pay your fine in the normal way however.

Another change is how to provide proof of your driving record to an employer or car hire firm, as your photocard or paper licence will not be enough in itself any more.

You will need to access the DVLA's Share Driving Licence service, which as of Tuesday (19 May) is now up and running (reference 1 again).

You will be expected to access the details yourself and print those off for submission to a car hire firm or employer. Or you can call the DVLA and give a third party permission to check your driving record verbally.

If you are hiring a vehicle, it is important to check with the car hire firm beforehand what information they need. Other than downloading the information as detailed above, you can also obtain a special code from www.gov.uk which allows the hire firm access to your record for 72 hours to make the necessary checks. This applies to both holders of photocard and paper licences.

Sarah Sillars, IAM chief executive officer, said: "People are not aware of how many of the current procedures are changing. Similar to the abolition of the tax disc, they assume much of what has happened before will continue.

"The onus is very much on the individual to obtain the information they need beforehand. So we very much hope people will not be caught unawares, especially if they don't want a nasty surprise when arriving to collect their car at the start of their holiday."

Bridport Primary win thriller on pens

KENWAY CUP FINAL
Bridport Primary School 1
Symondsburry Primary School 1
(Bridport win 3-2 after extra time and pens)
THE future of West Dorset football looks bright if this excellent game of football is anything to go by writes Stuart Broom.

An enthusiastic crowd of around 150 were enthralled by an absorbing game that saw Symondsburry, playing in the final for the first time, recover from an early setback, to equalise in the second half and then force the pace in extra time, before penalties were needed to decide the outcome between two well matched sides.

Played initially on a round robin basis involving schools from all of West Dorset, Symondsburry beat Charmouth in the quarter-final and St Catherine's, Bridport in the semi's, whilst holders Bridport Primary (BP), convincingly despatched Uplyme and then Broadwindsor.

Bridport Primary took the lead with a goal from Toby Mann and for most of the first half had the upper hand.

However, Symondsburry fought their way back into the game after the break with Jake Childs looking menacing with some tricky runs, and Theo Vincent-James equalised with a shot that slipped under BP goalkeeper Tom Peters.

With the sides level after 40 minutes of football, five minutes each way extra-time was played with Symondsburry looking the likely winners. However some good defending, especially from Mannie Wellman, and two excellent saves from Peter saw it end in stalemate, and ultimately penalties.

Peters then brought off a superb save in the shoot-out which Bridport won 2-1.

Lee Cuff, organiser of the event, said: "This has been one of the closest finals in recent years. Both teams are a credit to West Dorset.

"I would also like to thank every school and team who took part this year to make the competition such a success."

He also thanked Bridport FC for the use of their pitch and hoped that playing on St Mary's Field would motivate all the players to continue and aspire to the same high level.

The cup and awards were presented by current Bees first team full back Matt Condcliffe who was part of the Burton Bradstock team that won the cup in 2000.

The game reminded all those present of the ethos of football as a sport at all levels before television and advertising changed it to the business it is now.

Ablly refereed by Mike Thompson and assisted by Will Aburrow and Zak Knight, no quarter was given, but it was played with enthusiasm and in a terrific spirit without a hint of malice.

Tough times for struggling Weymouth

Dorset Funeral Plan League
PREMIER DIVISION
SHERBORNE 251-7 BEAT
DORCHESTER 247-8 BY 3 WICKETS
DORCHESTER lost out to Sherborne in an entertaining game at The Terraces.

Dorchester got off to a poor start losing Marcus Evans (3) early on, but after the dismissal of Steve Clifford (9) with the score on 50-2, Will Caldwell and Quentin Miller (39) added 105 for the third wicket to put the county town in a strong position at 155-3.

However the loss of Miller and then Caldwell for a superb 78 saw the Dorchester batting subside, with only captain Simon Mitchem (35) and a late 19 form Pete Phillips adding too many to the total, as Dorchester's innings closed on 247-8.

James Dunham (1-34) struck early and with Dan Belt (2-32) bowling the dangerous Andrew Nurtun (7), Sherborne were left 22-2.

However, after Mitchem (3-50) dismissed L Hancock (28), S Snater (78) and E Khun (83) took over adding 132 for the fourth wicket, and with the help of their middle order Sherborne reached their target with just over three overs to spare.

SWANAGE 139 ALL OUT LOST TO MARTINSTOWN 225 BY 86 RUNS
A SOLID 60 from Dave Herbert and a magnificent opening bowling spell from Matt Camp (4-26) and Chris Read (3-33) laid the foundation for Martinstown's second win of the season.

Batting first, all the Martinstown players made a contribution, but it was Herbert's sixth wicket partnership of around 65 with Camp (25) that helped the visitors to 225.

Camp, with a beautiful spell of away swing bowling, and Read, taking advantage of the variable bounce, produced a phenomenal spell that saw the hosts reduced to 40-7 as they bowled their overs through.

WEYMOUTH 115 ALL OUT LOST TO BROADSTONE 268-8 BY 153 RUNS
WEYMOUTH crashed to their fourth defeat of the season to leave them stuck at the bottom of the table.

Broadstone winning the toss elected to bat but with Dave Trotter (2-33) and Alex Mortimore and Simon Browne picking up early wickets they looked in trouble at 31-4.

However, a fifth wicket stand of 106 between Oliver Parsons (70) and an unbeaten 108 not out from Asian Abbas took the game away from the Seaside.

Niral Kerai (21) then added another 84 for the eighth wicket, the visitors posted 268-8 in their 50 overs despite Graham Puckett's valiant 3-47.

Openers William McKay (24) and Sami Rathnayake (18) put on a steady start of 45 in reply, but with only Simon Brown (13) and Dave Pearce (25) getting into double figures they fell way short of their target.

County Division Two
CATTISTOCK 231-8 BEAT
MARNHULL 163 ALL OUT BY 68 RUNS
CATTISTOCK registered their second win of the season with a comfortable victory over Marnhull.

Batting first they lost Jon Legg (15) and Jack Walklett (18), but two strong innings from the in-form Martin Langford with 59, his fourth consecutive innings in excess of 50, and a thumping 67 not out from Steve Tucker that included four 6's saw them post a reasonable target.

A tight spell of opening bowling from Legg who took 2-13 off nine overs set the hosts on the way to victory.

And despite 70 from veteran Les Elsworth, Liam Toohill (2-32) and Buddy Langford (2-35) ensured Marnhull fell short.

COUNTY DIVISION THREE
DORCHESTER 2ND 169 ALL OUT LOST TO BEAMINSTER 206-5 BY 37 RUNS
ON a warm sunny day Beaminster won the toss and batted first.

Returning players Simon Jones (55) and Chris Park (4) had mixed fortunes; Park controversially given out caught behind, while Jones compiled a classy half-century.

Jones stroked the ball around the large outfield and looked comfortable before losing his footing when being stumped.

Despite not scoring runs freely, Beaminster crucially kept wickets in hand and when Will Everitt (69 not out) and Dan Hillier (33) were together they had licence to accelerate the score.

With tensions high in the field, the pair battled and played determinedly and made hay in the final overs as Beaminster closed on an impressive 206-5 from their 45 overs.

In reply Will Everitt had immediate success as he took two quick wickets.

Adam Herring also continued his excellent form by taking 3 wickets as Dorchester struggled on 71-5.

However, the impressive Josh Foot (62) played sensibly and mounted a recovery.

With several chances spilled, the game was in the balance before Adie Phillips took a well-judged catch in the deep to dismiss skipper Stuart Beasley (22).

Simon Jones (3-31) took important late order wickets as Dorchester fell 37 runs short of their target

STURMINSTER MARSHALL 233-8 BEAT WEYMOUTH 2ND 73 BY 160 RUNS
WEYMOUTH 2nds suffered a heavy defeat and remain second from bottom.

County Division Five
PUDDLETOWN 162 ALL OUT LOST TO CHARLTON DOWN 190 BY 28 RUNS

THIS early season top-of-the-table clash was a very tight affair with Charlton Down victors by 28 runs as the game swung back and forth until Matt Stevens had Steve Chaldicott (26) leg that saw the visitors take over at the top.

Charlton Down won the toss on a beautiful sunny day and it was openers Jae Miller (36) and Sam Roles (59) who batted well against the impressive fiery Puddletown bowling attack of Josh Richardson (2-26) and Adam Weir (1-20).

A steady start of 49-0 off 15 overs, soon gained pace with another 49 runs coming from the next five overs.

Miller and Roles were looking in ominous form, finding the boundary at ease, and had pushed the score to 98-0 after 20 over.

The partnership was then broken by Chris Ascott (4-42) who had both players caught as they tried to step up the run rate.

Ascott then struck twice more in two overs removing Jack Eveleigh and Luke Voss as Charlton Down collapsed from 98-0 to 122-4.

This soon came 129-6 when Richardson returned to remove Kim Park and Cameron Lucas.

Matt Stevens added 11 but was then well caught by Adam Weir, and with John Clancy out first ball to Luke Raines and Rob Rutter (6) out leg before, Charlton Down had slipped to 158-9 losing seven wickets for only 42 runs.

It was left to a cameo innings from captain Pete Tucker (6) and Javed Gill (26) who added 32 valuable runs for the last wicket to claim good batting bonus points.

The Puddletown innings start brightly with the talented Lucas Allen batting positively, reaching his 50 with a straight driven boundary, before he was deceived by a full ball from Kim Park (3-31), striking him on the full in front of leg stump.

Tom Orford was batting patiently until he cut the ball straight to Jack Eveleigh at gully leaving the score on 70-2 this soon cam 70-3 when Park bowled Chris Ascott (0).

The impressive controlled bowling from Park earned him his third wicket when he also bowled Chris Clarke (9), and a similar batting collapse saw Puddletown lose six wickets for 26 runs.

Javed Gill bowled beautifully picking up 3-14 in his eight overs and captain Pete Tucker 2-27 to leave the hosts 129-9.

Puddletown stalwarts Chaldicott and Barry Knight added a quick 34 runs and sensed victory themselves before Chaldicott was leg before by the returning Matt Stevens and finishing a nervous ending match.

Captain Tucker said: "Puddletown has one of the best bowling attacks in the league and they made it very difficult to score early runs.

"Jae and Sam batted so well, making it look easy until Chris Ascott produced four wickets in his last spell.

"But once again players stepped up to the plate.

"Kim Park certainly did this dismissing all three top order batsmen. Javed Gill also bowled his way to a very well deserved pint."

MARTINSTOWN 2ND 180-4 BEAT CHALKE VALLEY 176 BY 6 WICKETS

BANK Holiday weekend and the return of a number of students meant a strong team for Martinstown for the visit of last year's league winners.

CV won the toss and decided to bat on a beautiful looking Martinstown pitch.

A first wicket stand of 49 in only seven overs, broken by James Reynolds, was followed by an impressive second wicket stand that took the score to 119 at over a run a ball.

However, on this score George Pope trapped Hutchings lbw, and in the next over Monaghan on 69, sweetly struck a James Pickering full toss low at Charlie Andrews who took the chance without fuss.

From then on the Martinstown fielding, backed up the bowlers who had taken some pace off the ball began to reap rewards.

Grant Neven took two catches and Teddy Andrews safely pouched a towering chance to dismiss Kwiakowski, the only batsman outside the top three who had managed double figures, as Chalke Valley were all out for 176.

The Martinstown reply started excellently with Gargrave and House putting on 98 before House was stumped for 49.

Gargrave and Osbourne went two runs later leaving the innings teetering on the brink at 100 for three.

Pope showed signs of his quality before flat-batting a dreadful long hop straight at extra cover and being caught.

Neven then joined Crosthwaite who found some fluency in his 48 not out, and despite some challenging bowling, saw Martinstown home to 180 for 4.

County Division Six
BEAMINSTER 2ND 263-9 BEAT WITCHAMPTON 2ND 184 ALL OUT BY 79 RUNS
HAVING not won for almost two years until last week, Beaminster 2nds made it a remarkable second win on the trot.

Once again Dean Hyett led the charge with 78, and he was backed up by a quickfire 68 from Rob Meech.

With all the others chipping in Beaminster reached 263-9 in their allotted overs.

Witchampton found it difficult in reply with Hyett (2-23) and Terry Field (1-23) very economical from their eight overs, and with Arthur Gay, having joined from Bridport following their withdrawal from the league, taking a superb catch, the visitors fell way short.

Bridport withdraw

AFTER just three games of the new season Bridport have withdrawn from the Dorset Cricket League Division Four.

The club made their decision following an emergency meeting last Tuesday after they were forced to forfeit their game against Swanage 2nd's due to a lack of players.

It is hoped that the club will be able to arrange friendly matches during the rest of this summer with the hope of re-entering next season.

Bees news

Wise heads for Winkys

DAN Wise, one of Bridport's most charismatic players of recent years is set to leave the club he has served for 11 seasons.

With over 500 appearances for the Bees he has been one of the most influential players in Bridport's successes.

However, he has decided that now is the time to move on, following his brother Chris' appointment as joint manager of Wincanton Town together with Andy Mitchell.

The 29-year-old attended the Bees end of season presentation evening last Saturday, but will now step down a division to play in the Toolstation Western League Division One.

Deadly at free kicks and the club's designated penalty taker, he leaves memories of a lot of spectacular goals.

Manager Trevor Senior said: "We wish Dan good luck in his new venture. He has always been hard working and hardly ever missed training, and I have told him that the door is always open should it not work out."

Matt Morley has also left the club. The flying winger is believed to be moving to Sherborne.

On the plus side Senior is confident that Sam Buckler will return next season, and with Ryan Dovell getting back to fitness, Senior hopes he will be fit to lead the line.

More under 6 players required

DUE to the overwhelming success with the formation of Bridport Youth FC under 6 team, they are now accepting further players, who must be in school Year 1, for training with a view to entering two teams in the mini soccer league next season.

Anyone interested should contact Martin Phillips on 07969882496.
